S Electoral Highness of Metz is returned to his Residence; and as his Vifit to his Imperial Majefty created a great Stir here, and has been much taken

Majesty created a great Stirkere, and has been much taken Notice of elsewhere, it may not be amiss to give you an Account of the Circumstances of that Interview. In the Morning of the 21st Instant, his Electoral Highness repair'd to Court in a Coach drawn by Pair of Horses. As soon as he alighted, he was receiv'd by Messieurs the Grand Chamberlain, and the Vice-Chancellor of the Empire, who conducted him to the Emperor's Apartment. As soon as his Imperial Majesty was inform'd that his Electoral Highness was there, he came out of his Closet, and advanc'd to meet him. After a Conference which lasted about three Quarters of an Hour, his Electoral Highness went to pay his Respects to the Empress, and the Princess Royal. They dined in the Empress, and the Princess Royal. They dined in the Empress, and the Princess Royal. They dined in the Empress, and the Princess Royal. They dined in the Empress, and the Princess Royal did on the Right of his Imperial Majesty; each of them having an Arm-Chair. After Dinner, his Electoral Highness plac'd himself by the Side of his Imperial Majesty, and presented him with a Napkin to wipe his Hands, which he receiv'd from a Lady of the Court. Another Lady gave him the Hat and Cane, which he likewise presented to his Imerial Majesty, and afterwards walk'd before him into his Apartment; where, after a short Conference, the Visit ended. It was observed, that the fore him into his Apartment; where, after a short Con-ference, the Visit ended. It was observed, that the Elector did not visit the Prince Royal; neither was his Royal Highness at Table with them. The Emperor's Royal Highness at Table with them. The Emperor's Departure is again put off for a few Days, and, as we are tod, on a very important Occasion; supposed to be a Rescript to the Dyet, demanding a Seat and Vote there, in Right of the Crown of Bohemia; which, however, may possibly be found calls a Conjecture.

my possibly be found only a Conjecture.

Dresden, September 25. It is observed, that the taking of Prague has made a great Impression here; not only on the Lords of the Regency, but also on the Foreign Ministers. The Duke de Saxe Weissenfels has assembled to one Men which are ready to match the foreign than the same which are ready to match the same which are ready to the same which are Minitiors. The Duke de Saxe Weitlentels has allembled 40,000 Men, which are ready to march at an Hour's Notice; and the last Orders for their March, are hourly expected from Warfaw. A Demand has been made to the Regency of Berlin, for the Passage of 5000 Ulans from Poland, which was granted immediately; which occasions, at every Incident of Consequence, at this Conjuncture, many Speculations. We expect here daily a Minister from the Court of Rusha; and a Report prevails, as if the Czarina had already declared to the Reserve of Berlin, her Intention to march a Body of 26,000 vais, as it the Czarina had already declared to the Regency of Berlin, her Intention to march a Body of 26,000 Men into Germany, in the Beginning of the Spring. There is likewife a Rumour here, of a new Confederacy among the Princes of Germany, at the Head of which, the King, our Sovereign, and his Britannick Majefty, will put themselves; and we flatter ourselves, that their Example will be followed by three other Electors, by many of the Service and most of the Springal Princes. many of the Secular, and most of the Spiritual Princes of the Empire. Time will shew how well this Report

Extract of a private Letter from Metz, September 15, There was held here, on the 20th, 2 great Council

There was held here, on the 20th, a great Council of War, in the Apartments of M. Nosilles; at which affilted, the Marshais Belleisle and Mallebois, together with Count Schmetrau, Master of the Ordnance to his Prussian Majesty, and M. D'Argenson Secretary at War.
In this Council a Paper was produced, sent from
M. Coigni, containing an exact Account of the State of the Fortress of Fribourg; in which, the Garison is said to consist of 11 Battalions of Regular Troops, 11 Companies of Grenadure, song Troops of Dragons. faid to confift of 11 Battalions of Regular Troops, 11 Companies of Grenadiers, four Troops of Dragoons, 300 Huffars, and 100 Licanians. It is likewife faid, in that Paper, that the Fortress is extremely well provided with Artillery and Ammunition. After reading it, M. Noailles observed, that, at this Season of the Year, the Siege of so strong a Place, and so well provided, must take up a great deal of time; intimating, that, perhaps, it might be for the Advantage of the common Cause to postpone it to the Spring. General Count Schemattau immediately declared, that he had Instructions from his Master, to institute on the making that ions from his Master, to insist on the making that 'Siege, without delay, and without turning it into a 'Blockade; which, after some Debate, was agreed to, and Orders were accordingly sent to M. Coigni to open the Trenches before it, as To-morrow; which, and doubt with he accordingly that the force Time. no doubt, will be complied with. At the fame Time, an Express was dispatched to the Court of Francksort, with this News, on a Presumpton that it may have some Effect on the Emperor's taking the Field. We are under great Uneasiness here, about the Conduct of the Court of Dressen, since it is certain, that if the Saxon Troops join the Army of Prince Charles of Lorrain, the Prussians will, for the Remainder of this Campaign, he obliged to act on the Desensive; and this may, perhaps, give time for marching a Body of Russian Troops into Germany, which will go near to disconcert all our Measures. The Marqu's de la Chetardie has been forbid the Court, and ordered to retire to his own Estare; but, at the same time, we are assured, that an Apology of his, address'd to M. Noailles, will be quickly publish'd; in which there are very frightful Characters drawn of some great Ministers. The King recovers his Health but slowly; the Journey to Strasbourg is a Thing resoured on; and his Majesty does not propose to return to Paris, before the Feast of All Saints. We still talk here of Alterations in the Ministry, and even an Alteration in Measures; and some go so far as to say, that fr sh Proposals of Peace have been made to the Queen of Hungary; but, perhaps, these are Pieces of News which stand in great Need of Consirmation.

Sit WALTER RALEON'S History of the World is a Work of so wast a Compass, such endless Variety, that in Grains, but one adventurous as his own, durft have undertaken the great Design. I do not apprehend any great Dissipation is a lecting and common-placing an Univertal Hinry from the whole Body of Historians; that is nothing but nechasic Labour. But to digest the several Authors in his Mind, to take in all their Majesty, Strength, and Beauty, to reise the Spirits of measure Historians, and to equal all the Excellenciar of the best, is Sir Walter's peculiar Praise. His Style is the most perfect, the happiest, and most beautiful, of the olige the wrote in a majestic, clear, and many; and he opears every where so superior, rather than unequal to his subject, that the Spirits of Rome and Athem seems to be breathed into his Work.
